Beautician Courses By FVTRS:

A dropout turned into a beautician Rekha , an 18-year teenage girl was a VII class dropout from Dungarpur District village, Rajasthan state. Her father is a rickshaw puller and she being the eldest in the five-member family wasn't able to continue her education. She used to depend on her husband even for the daily needs of their family. One day, Rekha learned from her friends that our ngo Adarsh Shiksha Samiti was imparting training in beautician course. She joined the course and did all the hard work to emerge first in the batch. After the training, and observing Rekha's interest, our NGO helped her in getting a loan for establishing her own beauty parlour. She set up a shop in her village and began running the business. In course of time, owing to good orders, Rekha became a stable earning member in her family. Now, she supports her brother and sisters and pays for their education. Rekha's family is happy to see her as a shop owner.

COVID-19 Dry Ration distribute to needy families

As the COVID-19 crisis continues to loom over us, The Government of India has taken a strict combat measure by directing a compulsory 21-day lockdown of the entire nation. At this great hour of need, Adarsh Shiksha Samiti, in close coordination with State Governments & District Administration, has stepped in to provide relief by providing food to thousands of people across the country.

By adhering to all safety and hygiene measures, Adarsh Shiksha Samiti has begun its relief service by providing meal or packed grocery kits to the marginalised and low-income segment of the society comprising of daily wage workers, migrant labourers, construction site workers, and needy people at old age homes and night shelters.

Bag Making

The women in this group belong to the low income group, and for most of them, this is their livelihood. "Most are from our neighbourhood. They haven't had the chance to finish their education and are employed as domestic helps. Every day, they finish their daily work and assemble at the place we have taken on rent to make the bags. "We use old dupattas, bed sheets and other clothes in making these bags. Cloth bags are not only easy to carry, but are also durable and eco-friendly.

Skill Development and Education Training:

The education is fundamental to all-round human development. Skills and knowledge are the driving forces of economic growth and social development. It is an unique investment for harnessing the country's demographic dividend. Skill Development and Entrepreneurship development efforts across the country have been highly fragmented so far. Though India enjoys the demographic advantage of having the youngest workforce with an average age of 30 with the advanced opposed to the where the percentage between 60% and 90% India records a low 5% years) with formal With the present levels of those already being very low, it years in comparison developed countries, of skilled workforce is of the total workforce, of workforce (20-24 employability skills. education and skill in the labour force would be a major challenge for India to reap its demographic advantage. So, there is a need for quick reorganization of the skill development ecosystem and the promotion of which is necessary to suit to the needs of the industry to ensure enhancement of life of the population. India would surely rise to be the human Resource Capital of the world by appropriately skilling its youth bulge and convert its advantage into a dividend.

The Skill development programme by Adarsh Shiksha Samiti help in the advancement of skills that are relevant to the tribal youths of the area and pertains not only to a huge quantitative expansion in skill training for the youth, but also to the much more important task of raising their quality. With a goal to create opportunities, space and scope for the development of the talents of the Indian youth and to enhance their technical expertise, Adarsh Shiksha Samiti focuses on Youth Skill Development as one of its pillars.

After successfully organized the trainings and building up capacity of beneficiaries under different kind of rural microenterprises Adarsh Shiksha Samiti have distributed tool kits to members. It was just an assistance to engage them in income generating activities. Now all of them are self-sustained.

About 615 School drop-out youths have been trained in the different trades of Udaipur District in the Southern Rajasthan during this year and now they became economically self-sustained to generate the sources of income.

Adarsh Shiksha Samiti's observation is not only on quantitative scale but also based on qualitative performance. It could be possible just due to comprehensive implementation schedule of organized trainings and capacity building program.

Agriculture

Agriculture has always been and still continues to be main source of employment for majority of the Indian population. Same is the case for the tribal regions of southern Rajasthan where agriculture employs around 70% of total workforce. If we look around the tribal region of Udaipur district where most of the families are BPL (Below Poverty line), living in remote and deprived areas with small-marginal land holdings; where there is little or no access to infrastructural facilities and extension services. Most of the population is employed in agriculture, but because of obsolete techniques of farming coupled with poor quality of inputs, production is hardly fulfilling farmer's own requirement i.e. their agricultural produce is unable to produce sufficient income.

Enhancing productivity and diversification by introducing accessible and sustainable agricultural practices are the core strategies of GSS's agriculture programs. Our area specific planned interventions are not only increasing productivity but also ensuring food security, farm prosperity and livelihood enhancement of the local community in the target areas.

MANSON TRAINING

Basic Construction Training Manual for Trainers® has been developed by us in close cooperation with field based SEWA construction engineers to ensure that their needs and expectations are met. This Training Manual is the summary of basic practical construction know-how that is of crucial importance to transfer appropriate and new skills to local masons, supervisors and SEWA members in building earthquake resistant houses. It will help construction trainers to pass on relevant skills in constructing houses and improving infrastructure in a practical manner, and offers a wide range of essential information. There is a genuine need and high demand for formal building construction training by masons.

SPECIAL EVENTS

National Conference at Bhopal by FVTRS

The National Skill Conference has become a regular event to FVTRS for the last 13 years. The event has been seen as a useful platform to reflect upon various aspects of skill eco-system in the country. The conference was attended by persons from across the country representing NGOs, academic institutions, government departments, CSR, media and other likeminded individuals and establishments from Madhya Pradesh. Looking at the current challenges and scope in the skill development sector this conference has reflected upon contributions of the major players such as Government, Corporates and NGOs in the country. The thematic sessions related to three sectors have given new insights to the participants to carry forward the skill training more efficiently and effectively. The conference has been reported in several print and electronic medias which has enhanced the visibility of FVTRS. This may further contribute towards the Skill India Mission.

THEMATIC SESSIONS Thematic sessions were divided in a very systematic manner in order to understand various aspects of skill development from the perspectives of different sectors. The sessions were arranged in such a way that the participants could understand the government perspective, corporate perspective and non-governmental perspective about skill development.

- Thematic Session – I (Skill Development Initiative- Government)
- Thematic Session- II (Skill Development Initiative – Corporate Sector)
- Thematic Session – III (Skill Development Initiative – Non Profit Sector)
