

Success Story- Now I am living happily

Name: Ms Dimpal Ahir

Father's Name: Mr. Lal Chandra

Village: Bhinder, Udaipur, Rajasthan

Ms. Dimpal Ahir is running her beauty parlor. She was a school dropout and studied up to 9th fail . She is single. She has three brother and sister. One day she told to her friend that "I wanted to do something to stand on my feet but unable to identify any way and thought my life would be finished in four walls of my house" .Her friend told to Dimpal when she got the information about the beautician training, which was organized by Adarsh Org. for school dropout youths with the support of FVTRS, Bangalore. She didn't want to miss the opportunity; she immediately talked in her family about the training and got the permission eventually. The training center was one Km. away from her house but the passion of doing something made her motivated to attend the training regularly. She successfully completed the Three month training program and awarded with certificate in 2019. There was a vacant room available in Dimpal's house which is at road side corner. She thought to open her beauty parlor in the room but unable to show courage of telling this in her family. "One day I talked about my idea of opening beauty parlor at home with my family members; but did not get permission; which was very disappointing; I thought my four months training would become waste and didn't find any solution; but thankfully, by God grace I got the permission after one month due to my continuous effort" said Dimpal. Now Dimpal is running her beauty parlor at her house and developed the room as a shop. Where she provides beautician service to the women of area and also added beauty products and artificial jewellery at parlor which enhanced her income when she opened her beauty parlor she earned 2000 to 4000 Rs per month but now she is earning amount 5000 to 9000 rupees per month. "The decision of taking beautician training changed my life, I am applying for State open school of class 10th passed .It is my biggest achievement; Now I am living my life happily with my family".
